

BUYING VS.

LEASING

You may have entertained the idea that buying space for your business might be better than continuing to lease commercial real estate. Do a cash flow analysis to see the real pros and cons. Here are some issues you want to take a look at.

 Cash Outlay	Down payment = 10% - 25% purchase price	First and last month's rents of a lease
 Opportunity Cost	$ Money  tied in property.	$ Money available for business operations or other investments.
 Fixed vs. Variable cost	Can plan over the long-term with  fixed-rate mortgage.	 Changing market conditions dictate rent over long run.
 Growth Considerations	Good for a mature,  stable company.	Good for a company that's  relatively new or in high-growth mode.
 Property Management	Responsibility of the owner. 	Responsibility of the landlord.
 Appreciation	 Long-term increase in value through market appreciation.	Flexibility of moving  without concern of building value.
 Taxes/Financial	Building improvement depreciation asset and liability. Interest payment deduction. 	Lease payment  deduction asset and liability.

Contact Commercial Real Estate Group of Tucson. We can help you do your cash flow analysis.

Tel 520-299-3400 • WWW.CRETUCSON.COM • Michael@cretucson.com